		get a solicitor in Bournemouth and I spoke to some lady solicitor. I don't know whether I'd just lost the plot I don't know but I couldn't get a solicitor. And that night bricks start coming through the window. Silent phone calls started occurring. All that stuff. I didn't know what to do. I didn't know what the hell was going on. And then this Gordon MOORES turned up OK. And he said he'd come for stuff for her Sheila COLTON and it was stuff like she had chilblains and it was treatment for them. It was just surrealistic. And I says to him what's happening. He says well between me and you old boy somebody else is advising her and I think the person who was advising her is Tracey GORE her daughter. And I can come to that later. Anyway they thought John EDWARDS was a millionaire. He passed himself off as a multi millionaire and they thought they were all going to be rich. So I don't know what I didn't do anything. I didn't do anything. I didn't tell anybody. I didn't say anything. Anyway then they started coming clearing the house every night. They'd all come in there was Fleur THOMPSON, Tracey GORE, Jimmy GORE who I'm convinced sexually abused her son James. In fact I'd go as far as I'm pretty sure he buggered him. There was Jimmy GORE the husband Mark THOMPSON the husband James COLTON the son junior her and this Mark THOMPSON collared me one night outside Stokewood Road swimming pool and he said I want you out of that house. And he said if you're not out of that house tonight you'll get he was a biker he said if you're not out of that house tonight you're get a visit and they carry firearms these guys. So I legged it I had the sense to leg it. It was on bloody Valentine's Day. I caught the eight o'clock bus out of Bournemouth on Valentine's Day and I went to Skegness. And I have got no recollection how I got there. And then I started divorce proceedings which
